

Journey of Generosity

FACILITATOR GUIDE

INTRODUCTION

Thank you for leading your group through this experience! Over the next six weeks, you will be guiding your group through a Journey of Generosity. During a Journey of Generosity, you will have time to watch inspiring stories of generosity, discuss scripture, and listen to the Holy Spirit. We've found that honest discussions about our wealth are rare but valuable. Since money is connected to every single part of our lives, clarifying our beliefs about money brings clarity to our purpose.

GOAL OF THE JOURNEY OF GENEROSITY (JOG)

Unlike most programs that focus on money, the goal of this experience is to grow closer to the heart of God. It is designed to be contemplative, enjoyable, and inspiring. It is not designed to manipulate or push small groups to give more. As the facilitator, your main job is to lead with vulnerability as you show your group that you are on the journey. We are all still wrestling with trusting God with every area of our lives, including money! It's okay to show your group that you do not have all the answers and you are still growing in this area.

WATCH THE VIDEO & READ THE BLUE BOXES OUT LOUD

All the resources you need are located on the facilitator landing page here. Each session, you will watch a video and read the words in the blue boxes to your group. At times, there will be Scripture to read together as a group and there are excerpts from books to contemplate. You have the choice to print out these writings, show them on the screen, or send a link to your group via text.

OPENING VIDEO

Take time to preview the opening video for Session 1 here.

ADDITIONAL RESOURCES

If you want to find out more about Generous Giving, the organization that developed the JOG, click here to visit their website to learn more.